America

STATUE OF LIBERTY

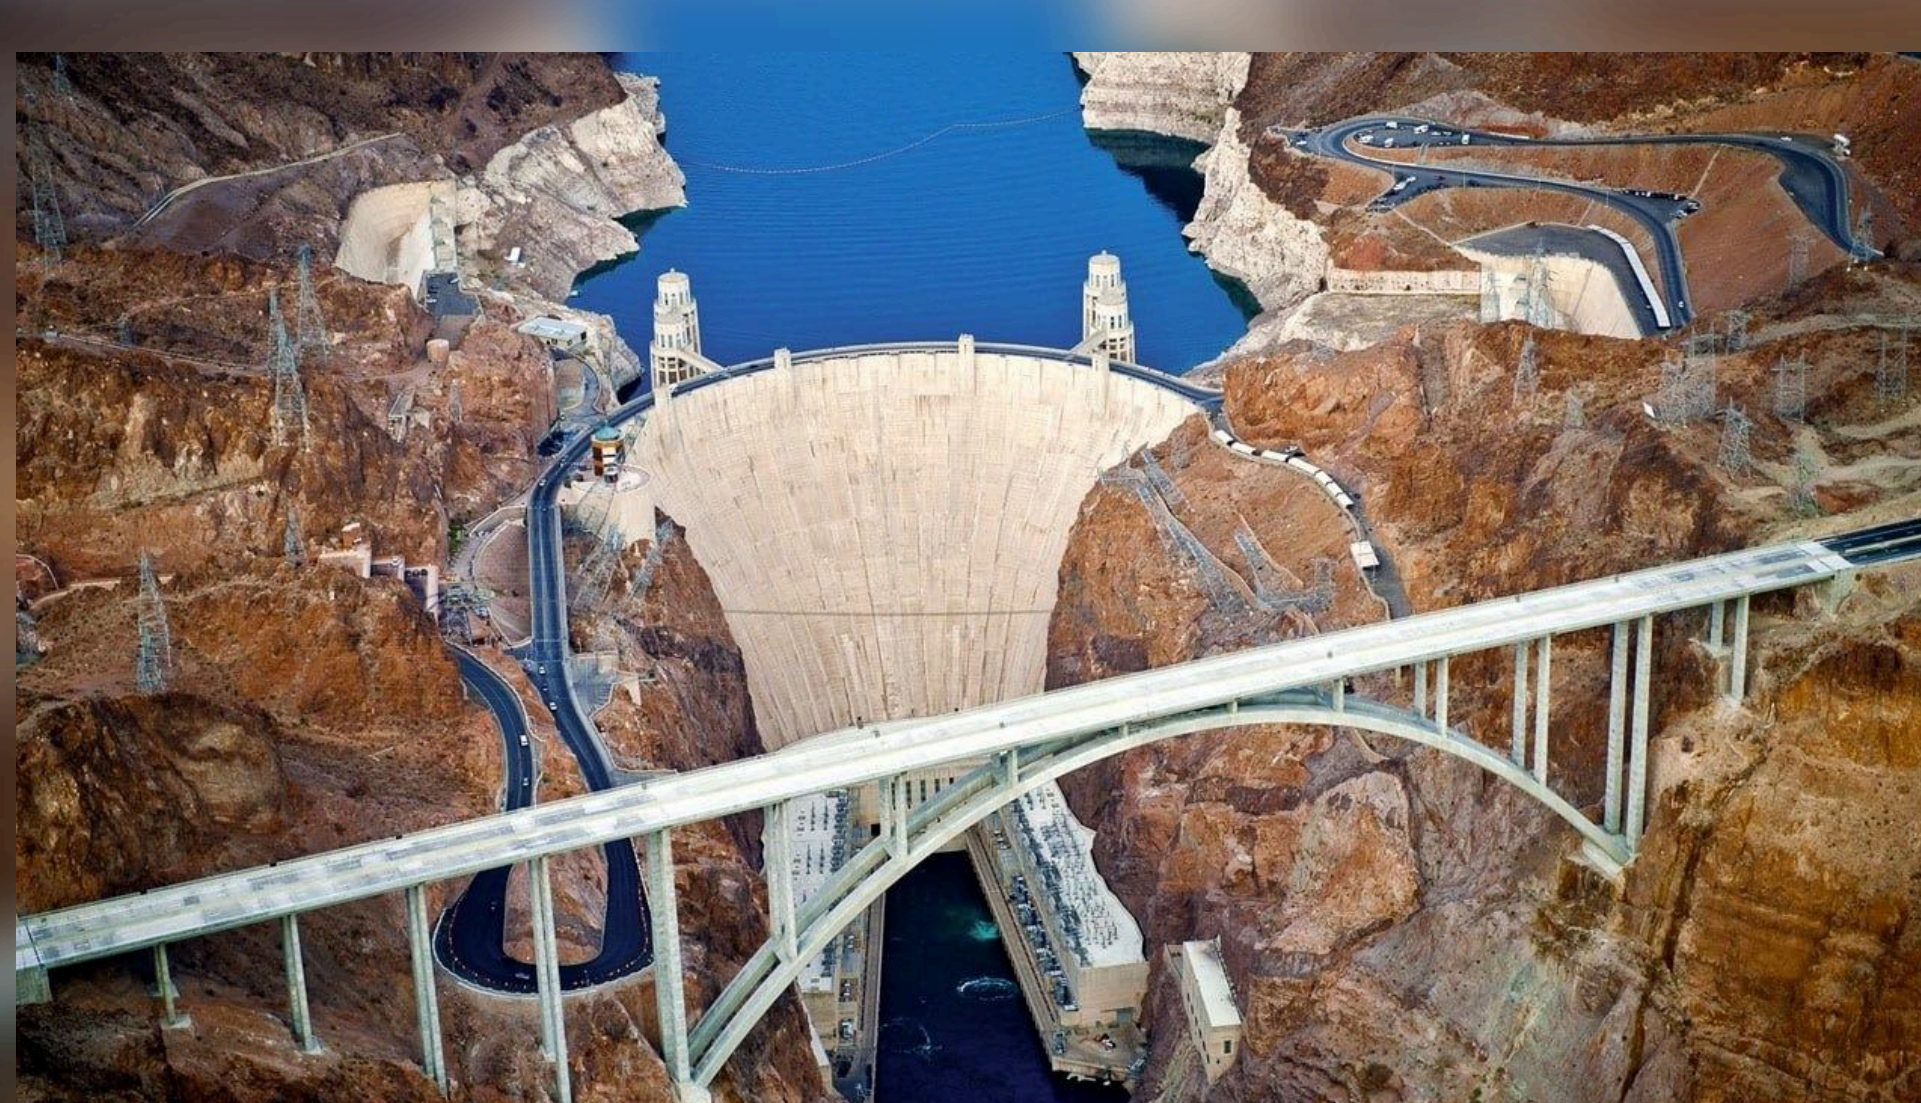

One of the most famous symbols of the country in the world, the Statue of Liberty, is located on a small island in the port of New York.

The majestic sculpture of a woman with a torch in her hand, stretched to the sky, has become the personification of American freedom. The crown on her head has seven rays, which represent the seven continents and seven oceans (according to Western geographic tradition). In her other hand, she holds a slab with the date of the adoption of the Declaration of Independence carved on it.

Grand Canyon

The Grand Canyon is considered the deepest canyon in the world. It is located on the territory of the national park of the same name in the state of Arizona. In ancient times, Indians of various tribes lived here. The Colorado River flows at the bottom of the canyon. Tourists can go rafting on the river. This site is included in the UNESCO list and can be safely included in the list of the most beautiful places in the world.

Hoover Dam

The dam is one of the largest hydroelectric power stations in the United States. The height of the concrete structure is 221 meters.

The dam is built on the lower part of the Colorado River and is located in a canyon near the state of Nevada. It is named after Herbert Hoover. If you have not yet decided what to visit in the United States, this famous dam is definitely on your list of attractions.

Hollywood sign

Perhaps even those who have never been to the United States have at least once seen the main attraction of Hollywood - its sign, located on the Hollywood Hills at an altitude of 490 meters. It was created almost a century ago, when the surrounding area was still uninhabited territory.
